Janesville

What can be done to bring downtown Janesville back to life?

Jule Raith, Executive Vice President of the Chamber of Commerce raised the question as she spoke to our Club last week.

Club members had several suggestions. Two of the best. A large department store and a grocery store would surely draw people back downtown.

"ENCOURAGE EXCELLENCE."

Your attention to reading October's issue of Kiwanis, especially the KIWANIS TODAY column on page 5 will be beneficial. Membership growth, Service projects and "a commitment to excellence by translating the Objects of Kiwanis into daily actions" are three goals for all Kiwanians set by Kiwanis International President, Noris Lusche.

Object # 1

"To give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than to the material values of life."

We fail to place human and spiritual values first in our nation today. Example: "Some parents know about the parties and allow them; a few even buy the booze, the students said."

Duties: "Committee on Support of Spiritual Aims shall cooperate on broad and non-denominational lines with religious leaders and groups in their communities to create a greater individual and public consciousness of the importance of religious and spiritual values."

Earned

$500.00 presented by Noon Kiwanis brought with their Inter-Club of Bob Bennet, Roland Strommen, Russ Hegge, Aaron Jensen.
